The 32nd Australasian Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AI 2019)
The 17th Australasian Conference on Data Mining (AusDM 2019)

AI 2019 and AusDM 2019 will be hosted by the University of South Australia in Adelaide from 2-5 December 2019. AI and AusDM are the premier Australasian conferences for practitioners and researchers in Artificial Intelligence and Data Mining. The co-location of AI 2019 and AusDM 2019 will bring exciting opportunities for participants in both areas to share ideas, and will enable a richer conference program with keynotes by world leading AI and data mining experts on emerging topics.

We warmly invite you to be a sponsor of AI 2019 and AusDM 2019. The sponsorship will provide you a great opportunity to promote your organisation, share the latest developments in the areas, meet smart minds for creating your AI and data driven solutions, and attract PhD graduates to join your workforce.

The AI and AusDM organisers are pleased to offer you a choice of three sponsorship opportunities.
